EDITOR'S NOTE

Europe did the buying this week. Tenders rose from 5 to 30 on the week, nearly all of them public notices from Poland, the UK, Ireland and the Balkans, and the biggest award was Romania's US\$2.2bn Cernavodă nuclear contract, which went to a Canadian-Italian-Korean consortium; the five largest awards went to Canadian, Irish, British and Indian contractors. If you sell into European power and rail, the bid calendar below is your next fortnight; if you buy, the award values are your benchmarks. On the water, Hormuz crude is back to pre-war volumes while Venezuela's barrels are being priced out by freight.

VE Venezuela’s Oil Exports Drop 9% as Freight Costs Bite

oilprice.com

What it means: Freight, not supply, is cutting Venezuelan exports: buyers of heavy sour crude get steeper discounts but fewer and later cargoes.

SHIPPING, PORTS & LOGISTICS

Panama Canal

PA New limits: More ships can transit this key cargo chokepoint

freightwaves.com

What it means: More daily slots for the largest ships means shorter queues on the US Gulf to Asia route; LNG and grain shippers should see slot premiums ease.

Strait of Hormuz

IR Middle East Oil Exports Stage a Remarkable Comeback

oilprice.com · 2 reports this week

What it means: Gulf crude is flowing at the highest level since the war began: more offers for Asian refiners, even as attacks on shipping keep war-risk premiums in freight.
