PROJECT 1 OF 3

Awarded

Netherlands

Power & Transmission

Boskalis wins inter-array cabling on Zeevonk phase 1, Dutch North Sea

€50m-€150m

Inter-array cable installation contract, Boskalis

Splash247 reports that Boskalis has won the contract to transport and install inter-array cables on the first phase of the Zeevonk offshore wind farm. Boskalis calls the award sizable, its term for €50m to €150m.

PROJECT 1 OF 3 • THE OPPORTUNITY

Boskalis wins inter-array cabling on Zeevonk phase 1, Dutch North Sea

WHO

Owner: Vattenfall and Copenhagen Infrastructure Partners JV. EPC: Not named in the report.

OPPORTUNITY FOR

For marine, survey and seabed intervention suppliers: packages are being awarded before FID. Boskalis's scope includes surveys and rock installation, and engineering is set to start shortly, so subcontract and supply talks come next.

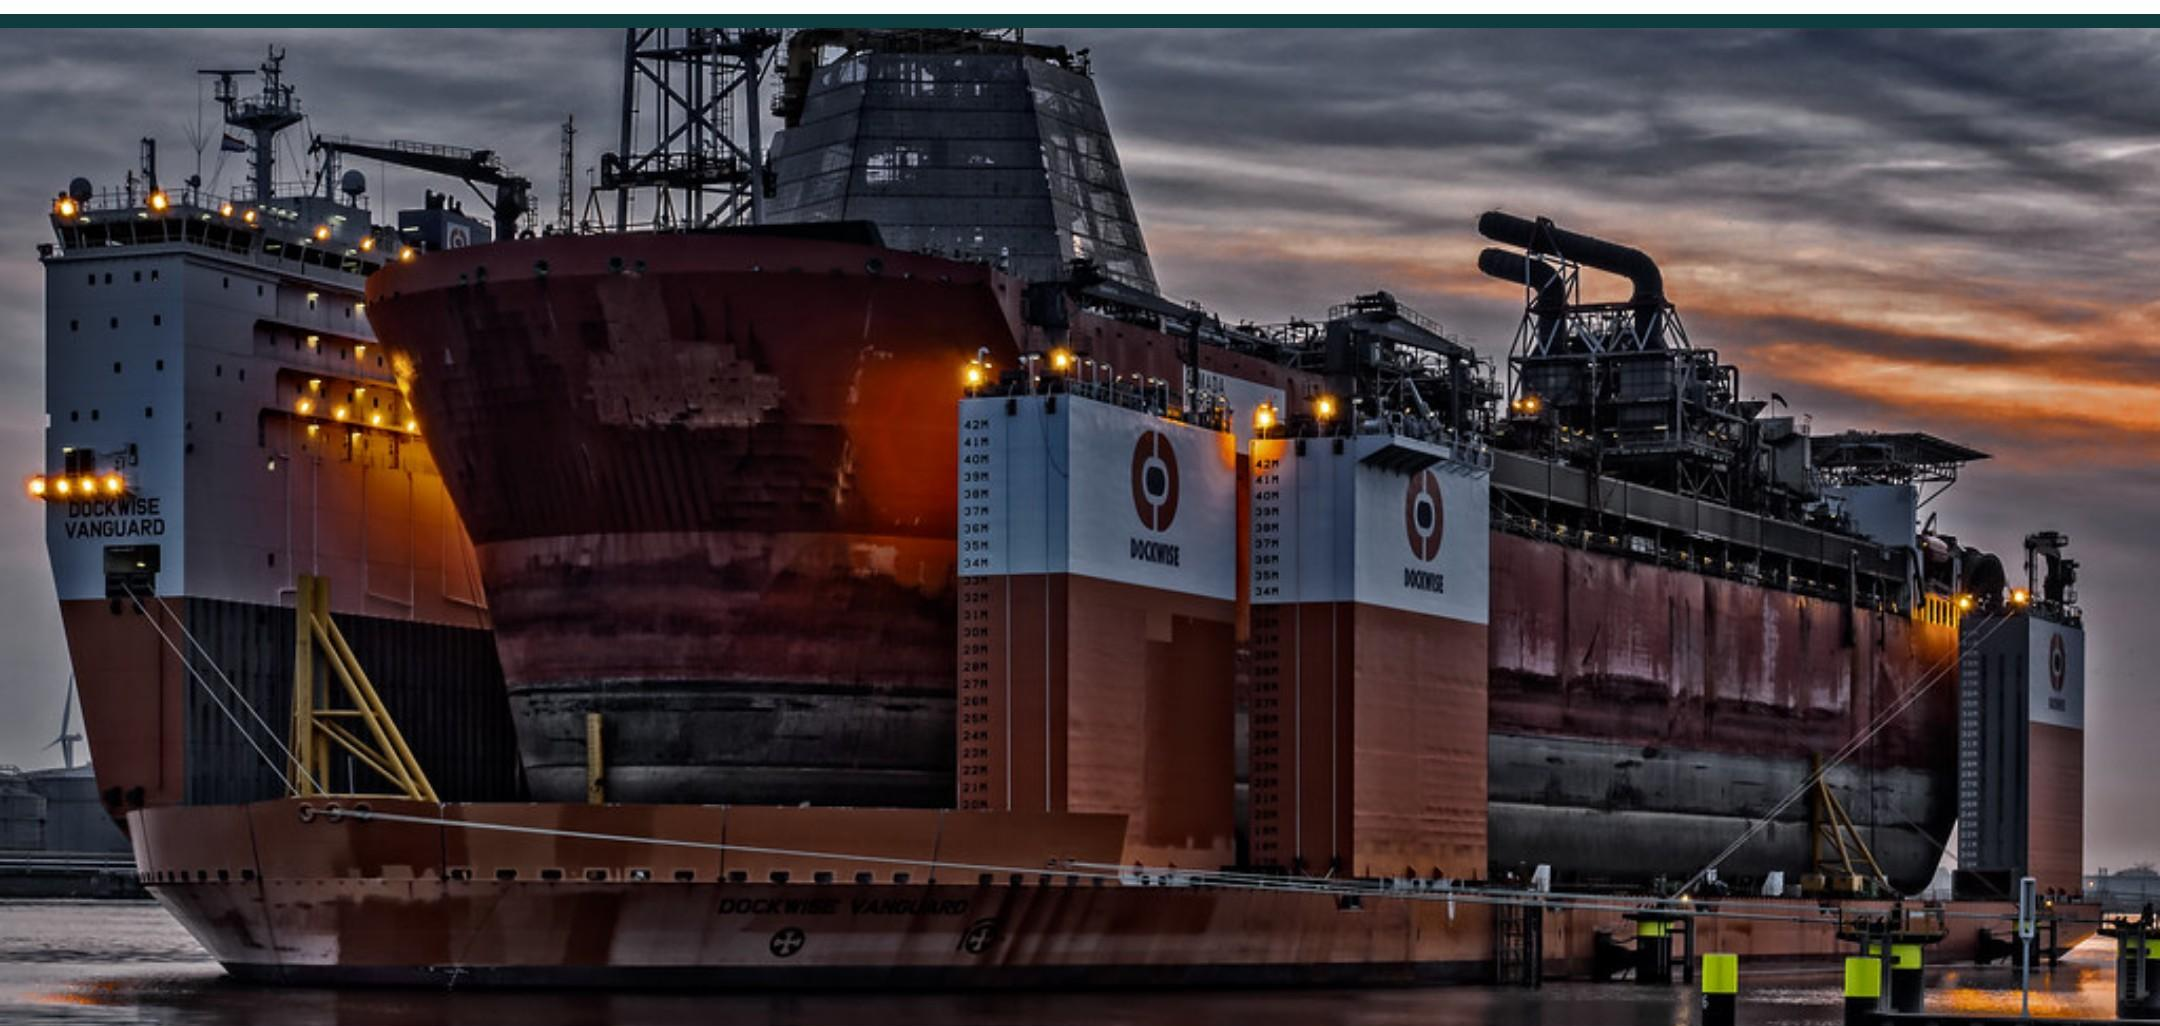

KEY FACTS

- Boka Ocean will carry the cables from TKF's Eemshaven plant and install them offshore.
 - Phase 1 is 1 GW, 63-84 km offshore. Phase 2 adds 1 GW plus 500 MW of system integration by 2032.
 - DEME won the transport and installation of the 69 monopile foundations in July.

WHAT TO WATCH

The phase 1 FID, which Vattenfall has said it is targeting for around the end of this year. Offshore installation is scheduled for 2029.

Splash247 reports that BOMESC subsidiary Tianjin BOMESC Offshore Engineering has signed with Single Buoy Moorings to design, procure and build topside modules for an FPSO bound for South America.

PROJECT 2 OF 3 • THE OPPORTUNITY

BOMESC wins FPSO topsides contract from SBM Offshore for South America

WHO

Owner: Not named in the report. EPC: SBM Offshore (Single Buoy Moorings). Topsides: Tianjin BOMESC Offshore Engineering.

OPPORTUNITY FOR

For suppliers of topside equipment and materials: the award covers design, procurement and construction, so purchasing for the modules follows. Fabrication will take place at BOMESC's base in Tianjin.

KEY FACTS

- The value is RMB1.6bn-2.1bn, with fixed and variable parts set by the actual workload.
 - The upper end of the value is more than BOMESC's reported 2025 revenue.
 - BOMESC worked on FPSO Sepetiba for Petrobras' Mero development in the Santos Basin.

WHAT TO WATCH

Completion is scheduled for the second half of 2028. The FPSO and the project it will serve have not yet been named.
